Hello from The Harmony of the Seas! I am writing this from my cruise vacation. Am I that boring? No. I just needed to get this done and we had an port of call canceled today so I thought I would put the finishing touches on the July newsletter.

I am also writing this with less than a week before the Nationals! It's a crazy schedule for me. I get home from my vacation with one day to prep before leaving for the Nationals. I hope you all have everything done that you need, if not everything you wanted. I fall into that category. There were a number of things I wanted to get done with my car, but life can sometimes get in the way.

Regardless, I think my car and I are as ready as we are going to be for the event. I just need to find time to clean the car there. I will be doing a lot of helping out in Popular Vote Tech.

If you have some time, consider helping out. Stan Farlow (skfarlow@aol.com) has a volunteer sign up sheet for our club. Give him a shout if you can help out.

Before you know it, the summer will be half over, so let's get out and have some fun! I know a lot of club members are planning on attending and I look forward to us spending a lot of time together!

This month we also have our Battle of the Brands show in Sunbury at the Big Walnut Grill. Brian D'Amico has everything under control but needs volunteers for 50/50, parking, and money takers/admission. Please contact him at burgboy73@gmail.com if you can help with any of those jobs.

See you all at Nationals! Until then or the next meeting, have fun and stay safe!

—Kevin

Club Cars from the 2012 Club Picnic!!

's Letter

I'm writing this the week before Nationals. The large number of club members and cars going to the Nationals should make us all feel good about the club. In planning for the event I have already met several of the Southern Ohio club members and a couple of GTOAA folks. Everyone I meet thinks well of our club. Everyone knew Dan Gregory and asks about Jim Evans. Ron Cozzo and Lance Hudnell are very well known in the GTO ranks. This National gives us a good chance for more of us to meet people from GTOAA and other clubs. Seems to me that any new people we meet can't help but make our club better. It should be a great week.

Planning is going well for our "Battle of The Brands" and "All Pontiac" shows on July 27 and September 1. These are both good events and great opportunities to spend a day with the club members. We are going to need all the help we can get so plan on coming out to support our club.

There are several other car shows with club ties going on. If you are working on a show and need help let us know so that I can add it to the club calendar. Some of us will be helping Kevin Russo at the Delaware car show on July 20. As usual we will be at Colo's Classic Car Show at the Zoo on October 6.

We have been talking about taking an overnight trip to the Gilmore Car Museum on October 19. The Gilmore is located in Hickory Corners Mi. just north of Kalamazoo. It houses one of Michigan's largest collections of classic and vintage automobiles. Over 300 vintage and collector vehicles and motorcycles from all eras are on display in over a dozen vintage buildings located on 90 acres. Check it out on the internet--it looks like a unique venue that would be of interest to all of us. Pam and I are planning a trial run sometime in July to lay out a route and pick a hotel. At first I thought this would be a 2 night trip but it looks like we can drive up on Saturday and go the Gilmore early enough on Sunday that anyone who needs to get home will have be able to return via freeways and make it home before too late on Sunday evening. We are looking for a winery, a good restaurant, and a hotel for Sunday evening to accommodate those of us who are on a more leisurely schedule. This is a longer trip than usual with the round trip being about 550 miles. There are plenty of good 2 lane roads available to keep the trip "old car viable" for those of us who can take the 2 night trip. If any of you have suggestions for good stops along the way please let me know.

Our summers are short, make it sweet, drive your GTO.

Cam Selection For Your High Performance Street Engine

By Steve Schaeffer

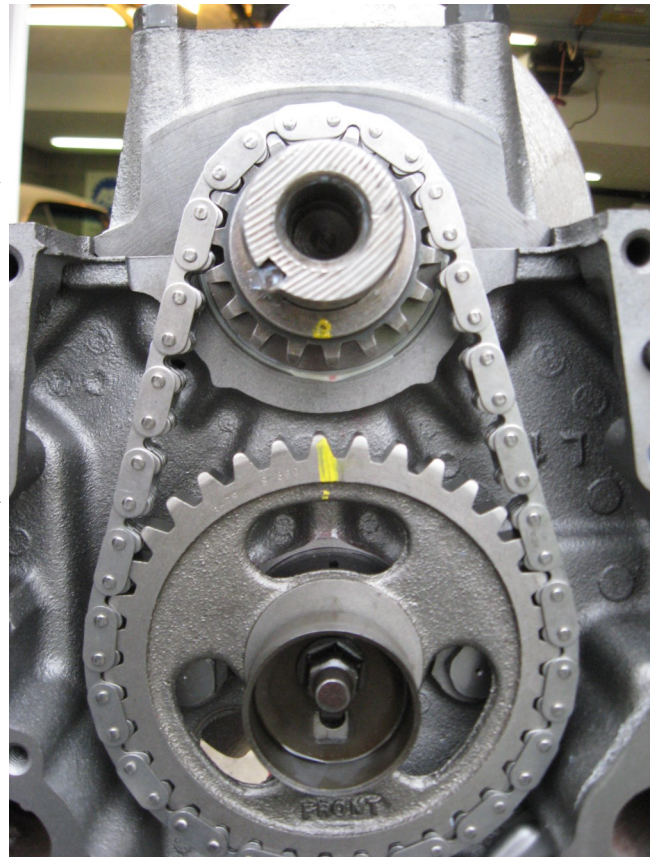

Only you can decide what cam to purchase for your high performance car. For a street driven vintage machine the only logical choices are a hydraulic roller or a hydraulic flat tappet. With a Chevy the choice is easy because a roller is very affordable. With a Pontiac or an Oldsmobile the hydraulic roller becomes a much more expensive proposition. I have had very good luck with hydraulic flat tappet camshafts in these engines. However you must use after-market oil that is high in ZDDP. In recent years the EPA has had the Zinc removed from off the shelf oil. They claimed it was poisoning catalytic converters. Flat tappet cams require high levels of anti-wear additives, ZDDP. ZDDP contains Zinc, Phosphorus, Molybdenum, and detergents.

When shopping for a camshaft look at the specs carefully. Check out the lift, duration, and overlap specs. Use the cam duration at .050 lift as a basis of comparison between manufactures as the advertised specs vary wildly. Read the ads carefully, for a street car you need low end torque. Don't over cam it, It is no fun trying to drive thru town with an engine that will not pull below 2,500 RPM. The camshaft manufacture's have excellent tech lines to call for advice.

A cam with a "good" idle will work fine with a stock converter and power brakes. A cam with a "fair" idle and good mid-range is usually a good choice for a street car. It will sound healthy but still have enough vacuum to operate power brakes. You may still need a torque converter with a stall speed of 500 or 600 rpm over stock. Be careful with a cam advertised as rough idle and powerful mid to upper torque. It will shake your teeth out at a traffic light. It will require a vacuum reservoir to operate power brakes, a high stall speed converter and a low rear gear..

Install your new cam with new lifters, valve springs, timing chain set, and proper assembly lube. Install the cam straight up using the factory timing gears and marks. Do not attempt to advance or retard the cam timing without first using a degree wheel to check specs, advance, or retard. Read the timing card that comes with the camshaft as some cams are already ground with several degrees of advance built in.

Cam Selection For Your High Performance Street Engine

By Steve Schaeffer

Hydraulic lifters require .020 to .060 lifter preload. This requires an adjustable valve train. On Pontiac heads that already have screw in rocker studs, pushrod guide plates, and hardened pushrods, I just install Big Block Chevy 7/16 screw in studs and poly-locks. On early Pontiac engines that have pressed in rocker studs we convert them to screw in studs. On Oldsmobile street engines I have had very good luck with the conversion kit from Comp Cams.

On Oldsmobile small blocks, 350—403 V-8 kit number 1441. On Oldsmobile big blocks ,400~455 with the standard lifter angle of 39 degrees, kit number 1442. These kits have 1.6 Magnum Rocker Arms, High Energy Hardened Pushrods, screw in rocker studs, and pushrod guide plates. Some early '64 to '67 Oldsmobile engines used a 45 degree lifter angle and a valve lifter .921 inch diameter instead of the standard .842 inch diameter. These engines require special grind camshafts and lifters. I know Crane has cams for these engines available for special order.

Your camshaft will come with installation instructions. When adjusting the valves, | go to zero lash plus 72 turn. This gets me to proper pre—load.

Before firing the engine for the first time with a new camshaft and lifters installed, I pre-lube it by using a dummy distributor drive shaft and a reversible power drill. With the valve covers off, | make sure every pushrod and rocker arm is getting oil. Then I turn the crankshaft 90 to 180 degrees and do it again.

This is in addition to using lots of moly assembly lube that comes with your cam kit. I use quality break in oil that is high with ZDDP. I run the engine for a 1/2 hour v rying the RPM and never letting it idle to break in the new cam and lifters. Then I change the oil and filter again using regular oil that again is high in ZDDP.

Now you can enjoy your new cam. Listen to the sound of power as you idle through the parking lot of your favorite hang-out. Feel the horsepower perform on the expressways. But remember, when you really want to run it through the gears, take it the Drag Strip on a test and tune night. It will be easier on your drivers license and your insurance company.
